The insanity experts will probably be called upon to prove that Harry Thaw's brain storm was caused by sun spots.

The oil magnates were awful good to Senator Jobailey, considering the fact that he threatened to send them to the pen if they tried to re-enter Texas.

The Russians are again doing their best to decrease the Jewish population of that country, judging from reports from Odessa.

Today is the anniversary of the birth of George Washington and the press humorists will tell you what the father of his country would think of certain things if he were alive today.

Several persons in various parts of the country are reported to have become insane over reports of the Thaw trial.
They must have tried to believe all of the evidence of both sides.

A short time ago an Arizona editor was placed on trial in the federal court for printing in his paper the report of a case in a police court, which read like a Sunday school lesson compared with some of the Thaw trial smut.

It is beginning to look as though there would be no mine tax law passed at this session of the legislature. If Governor Kibbey can solve the problem, why doesn't he frame a bill himself that will cover the points he desires?
Altogether it looks as though the problem is too complex for either legislature or governor.

Newspapers in the Warren district seem to hold widely diverging opinions as to the labor situation in Bisbee.
One states that 1,600 miners have been laid off on account of the Western Federation trying to unionize the camp and another is convinced that the men were laid off because of a shortage of timbers, etc. The one says that the business outlook in Bisbee is critical, the other that conditions never were better.

WHICH IS IT?

The Rev. Washington Gladden, speaking of Mr. Rockefeller's recent gift of $32,000,000 to the general education board, asks: "Is it a benefaction or a restitution?" and says that it would have been in better taste for the donor to wait until the indictments were tried under which he now rests. At any rate, it is a little peculiar that just at this time such items of news as these begin to appear:

Big Advance in Oil in Ohio
MARIETTA, Ohio, February 11, 1907.
—The heaviest single advance in oil ever made by the Standard Oil company was announced today, amber, or deep oil being advanced 15 cents per barrel, and shallow oil 5 cents.

Oil Up One Cent in New Jersey Officials of the Standard Oil company in Newark announced yesterday a raise of 1 cent per gallon for kerosene oil.
The advance will affect the entire state of New Jersey and will mean $25,000 additional income for the company in the year.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Probably one of the greatest needs of Globe at this stage of its growth is a chamber of commerce, a commercial club, or similar municipal organization of citizens and business men. There is not a growing or successful city in the southwest which has not an organization of this kind and most of these cities owe much of their prosperity to their chamber of commerce.

The following is a news item from the Tucson Citizen concerning the work of the chamber of commerce in that city and is a splendid argument for such an organization in this city:

It is probably not realized generally how much the chamber of commerce really accomplishes for the city during a year. The organization has been fortunate in securing an able and active president and as a result it has been an important factor in the advancement of Tucson. Under L. H. Manning and later under C. H. Bayless the organization has gone steadily ahead.

What was probably the biggest achievement of the year brought about directly by the chamber of commerce was the securing of the jobbers' tariff again for Tucson. This tariff had been annulled by the Southern Pacific, but after a conference which was arranged by the chamber of commerce between the Southern Pacific officials and Tuc-son business men, the tariff was again restored.

The chamber issued this year a new booklet which is attracting much attention. The popularity of the new booklet may be judged from the fact that nearly two thousand copies have been sent out of the city thus far, although the booklets were received less than a month ago. Many of the booklets are sent away by eastern people who are temporarily staying here and in this way Tucson is well advertised.

ARIZONA AND REFORM

There is something 'sorter missin' in our wine-like atmosphere:
The breeze is just as coolin' an' the sun shines just as clear, But when the boys jog towardward they are sorter lonesome like, Sence the ball has quit a-rollin' an' the gamblers had to hike.

They drive up sort of listless and they jest say, "Howdy pard," And their ponies' heads is droopin' like they, too, took it hard, And it seems all hushed, like that day we planted Mesa Mike, Sence the ball has quit a-rollin' and the
gamblers had to hike.

I ain't a sayin' partner that it ain't all for the best,
Though some of us ain't natchel, without cards clutched to the vest, But fer life this town ain't in it with the graveyard up the pike, Sence the ball has quit a-rollin' and the
gamblers had to hike.

We're a-learnin' simple pastimes, like Old Maid and House Croaky, And the cowboys of the Bar-C are a-learnin' to croschay; And we toddle to our blankets when we hear the curfew strike, Sence the ball has quit a-rollin' and the
gamblers had to hike.

—Washington Post.

WHITE DRESS SUIT

Mark Twain Adds Evening Clothes to His Wardrobe of Light Garments

Mark Twain (Samuel L. Clemens) has had made for him a suit of evening clothes of white broadcloth, as immaculate as newly-fallen snow. The buttons are covered with the same material.
When he arrays himself he will undoubtedly wear with the suit white enameled leather shoes. The genial humorist has long been in rebellion against the somewhat clannish effects borrowed from the court of France.

Mr. Clemens has decided that his new evening wear shall be supplemented by a long Spanish cloak, which can be thrown over the shoulder. Such garments were worn by grandees and cavaliers.

The broadcloth is of a soft finish.
The suit was cut in strict accordance with the prevailing mode. The coat is lined throughout with white silk, and the lapels are faced with the same material. The collar is of cloth, for it was thought that white velvet, which was permissible would easily become soiled. The coat is adorned with three white buttons in front and two at the back. The waistcoat, which has three buttons, is of the same material as the coat. Its only ornamentation is a white zigzag embroidery around the edges.
The trousers have a white silk braid down the outside seams.

Mr. Clemens is not fond of black silk hats, and with his new white suit he will probably wear a gray fedora. He has also a new light gray overcoat.

Mr. Clemens announced a year ago that he would henceforth wear white because it corresponded to the original costume mentioned in "Adam's Diary." After publicly pleading guilty to a seventieth birthday not long ago, he said he considered himself old enough now to wear about what he pleased.

Care of his all-white wardrobe, which consists of fifteen suits, is no easy task for the humorist. He is obliged to send two of them to the cleaner every week.
He sent word yesterday evening that he was too busy to discuss from an aesthetic standpoint the reasons for his sartorial innovation.

News of the new style spread rapidly among builders of clothes. Several of them said they were glad to know Mr.
Clemens had had the courage to break away from the usage which made uncompromising black the only wear for men after 6 o'clock in the evening.
They also said the Spanish cloak was a great improvement over the usual type of cape overcoat. Young's, tailors, said they had the suit fashioned for Mr. Clemens and that it was the first of the kind.—New York Herald.

Church Checks Babies

A novel plan for the care of babies and little children during the morning service at the Second Presbyterian church has been adopted by the Ladies' Aid society.

A committee will be stationed in the Sunday school room to look after the little ones, so that the mothers can hear the sermon.

The plan will be started the first Sunday in March. It is expected that the plan will prove decidedly popular. All things needed in a nursery will be provided by the committee, including milk, rattles and teething rings for the amusement of the little ones.—Springfield, Ohio, dispatch to New York American.

No Knee Breaches for Us

"You see," said Mr. Simpson, editor of the American Gentleman, "trousers are trousers, and there are no new ideas possible in them. We've had the baggy trousers and the poptop. The normal has been attained and we're going to stick to it.

"Knee breaches? Oh, my, no! You will never see them in America—not even for evening dress. The trouble is that the modern city man is too spindly shanked and knock-kneed to wear them with distinction. And it's not only the city man's legs that are deteriorating in grace and strength. It's a well-known fact among tailors that the man of today is physically inferior to his grandfather. Its the extension of trans-is ruining him. Nowadays, if a man has

Two Hats

"Mr. Hankinson," asked innocent little Tommy, who was entertaining the young man in the parlor while his sister, upstairs, was putting the finishing touches on her complexion, "why don't you wear the kind of plug hat Mr.
Simmons does when he comes here?"

"What is the matter with my plug hat, Tommy?" inquired Mr. Hankinson with a large, genial smile.

"His'n will straighten out again when I sit down on it," answered the innocent little boy, edging his way toward the door, "and yours won't."—
